Sponsor Opportunities

Invitation to Participate

The International Association for Landscape Ecology (IALE) - North America is seeking sponsors for the 2020 Annual Meeting to be held May 10-14, 2020 in Toronto, Ontario, Canada.

The IALE - North America Annual Meeting brings together up to 500 professionals and students in the fields of geology, ecology, biology, geography, urban and regional planning, and landscape preservation and design.

Highlights Will Include:

- In-depth, hands on workshops
- Thought-provoking plenary sessions
- Special symposia and contributed papers
- Oral presentations and posters
- Scientific excursions
- Numerous social and networking opportunities

Key Reasons to Join Us:

- Reach a target audience of world-class landscape ecology professionals, students, scientists, and practitioners.
- Increase awareness of your services or products.
- Engage and connect with attendees in a casual format, with ample opportunities for networking at the social events.

Attendify App

IALE - North America is extending their commitment to the environment to include reducing the amount of paper used at our annual conference again in 2020. Rather than publishing a lengthy hard-copy program, we will be using an event App called Attendify to provide all detailed schedule, location, and sponsor information. Sponsors entitled to, or who purchase advertisements, will be highlighted when their ad is sent to all attendees using the app at a scheduled time, in addition to having their contact info provided in the sponsor listing (which will, of course, include a live link to their website). A handout of the technical session grid will be provided to all attendees.
